

A Perfect Notebook

A 1-inch three ring binder exclusively for AP Environmental Science will be needed. You can either get dividers or make your own. Your notebook will have 5 sections.

Section 1-Class Notes-Each unit I will give out fill in the blank notes that will correlate with what we do in class. Use these notes to help complete labs, classwork and practice questions.

Section 2-Practice Questions-Each unit I will give out a packet of all the multiple-choice practice questions for the unit. They will be assigned as we finish each section of the notes. They are an excellent study guide for the types of questions you will see on your tests.

Section 3-Labs/Classwork-Keep all your labs and classwork to be used to study for tests and quizzes

Section 4- Review Materials/Quizzes-This section will contain all the review material I give you or that you create. It will also contain any quizzes we did in class.

Section 5-Take Home Notes-Each week I will give you notes and questions to work on at home. This section will contain those notes and questions filled in. There will be a separate assessment for the take home materials.

At the end of each unit, you will clean out your notebook (except section 5) and place all materials in a folder. You will take all that material back in preparation for you AP test in May.
